

Mari T. Galang, MSN, RN, AGACNP is an Adult/Gerontology Acute Care Nurse Practitioner in one of the busiest Infectious Diseases practice group in the Texas Medical Center. She started her nursing career after graduating with an Associate's Degree from Kingwood Community College in 2007. She then went on to get her Bachelor's degree and her Master's Degree from the University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston. Mari has a variety of experience from the General-Surgical Telemetry Unit to Cardiovascular Critical Care. She now collaborates with her physicians in the care of patients in the spectrum of infectious diseases - from cellulitis, HIV/AIDS to post-transplant opportunistic infections. She has been a member of the Houston Area Nurse Practitioners organization since 2012. After becoming an NP she went on to be an active and involved member and has been at work in the Education Committee. She assisted in streamlining the scholarship process and continues to strive to make it easier for student members to apply for scholarships. Ms. Galang holds multiple certifications in her areas of practice, including CCRN-CMC-CSC, FCCS and also trained as a post-Master's Trauma Certificate Program at UTHSC. She is also a member of the Infectious Diseases Society of America.
